DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of II in the reply filed on 10/7/05 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the MPEP is incorrect in its interpretation of the law. This is not found persuasive because as the invention I may be independent of II, since the word "comprising" is used, such that such may be a fluid which is both independent and distinct from that used in II. Furthermore, as the rules of the MPEP have been followed, the restriction is deemed to be proper. The search of both inventions would be an extremely enormous burden upon the Patent Office.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 20-24, 26-28, 30, 33, 35, 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ricci (5164433).

Ricci teaches a thickener composition which may be used in oil well drilling, which comprises latex, a surfactant, aluminum silicate (precipitating agent) and a salt, such as calcium carbonate (see table I and column 5, lines 56-59). The latexes would have particle sizes within the scope of claim 37. Such would inherently inhibit borehole wall invasion as in the present invention.

4. Claims 20-31 and 33-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by GB 2351986.

GB '986 teaches a method of drilling, using a drilling fluid comprising a latex, water, a surfactant, salts (page 9), and a silicate or alumino-silicate (clays), which are the same as the precipitating agent of the present invention (see page 5, line 23 and claims). The latexes would have particle sizes within the scope of claim 37. Such would inherently inhibit borehole wall invasion as in the present invention.

5. Claims 20-24, 26-31, 33, 36 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by GB 2131067.

GB '067 teaches a method of drilling using a drilling fluid comprising a latex, water, surfactant and bentonite which is an alumino-silicate, which is the same as the precipitating agent of the present invention (see the claims). The latexes would have particle sizes within the scope of claim 37. Such would inherently inhibit borehole wall invasion as in the present invention.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 20-38 and 43 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-31 of U.S. Patent No. 6703351. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are not of identical scope, such claims of US 6703351 teach the same components of the present claims used in the same method, and thus would render the present claims obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. Claim 43 differs in teaching the use in sand formations, however, in drilling, encountering either sand or shale formations will occur, and such would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

9. Claims 40-42 are allowable over the art of record.
